IMAGILITY'S CEO NAMED COUNSEL OF THE YEAR FOR TECHNOLOGY AND NEW MEDIA

LOS ANGELES, CA – December 12, 2006 – Imagility Inc. announced today that Eric W. Golden, the company's President and CEO, has been named Counsel of the Year for Technology and New Media from the Association of Media & Entertainment Counsel (AMEC).

The 2006 Media and Entertainment Counsel of the Year Awards are given each year to the top business attorneys at media and entertainment companies. This year's Awards were presented at a gala dinner at the Friars Club in Beverly Hills, CA on December 1, 2006. Winners receive a statuette named "The Counselor," created for the Association of Media & Entertainment Counsel by the famed Bennett Gallery.

Imagility is a family of companies dedicated to the design, manufacture and distribution of revolutionary tools for entertainment and industrial applications. Started in 2005 by Golden, the company owns Luminys Systems Corp, manufacturer of award-winning Lightning Strikes® and SoftSun® high-intensity lighting products, and Actua Systems Inc., manufacturer of the Ribbonlift™ family of positioning tools, among other subsidiaries.

Imagility reached several important milestones in 2006. Most notably in May 2006, the company's Actua subsidiary acquired the assets of Ribbonlift Inc., manufacturer of the Ribbonlift positioning product. In September 2006, Imagility signed a series of agreements with Garrett Brown, legendary inventor of Steadicam® and Skycam®, under which Imagility will develop and market two breakthrough technologies for industrial, entertainment, and other applications. The company expects to announce a new venture based on Brown's inventions in the spring of 2006.

Golden, who won AMEC's Technology and New Media Counsel of the Year, said, "I am honored to receive this recognition from my colleagues in the entertainment industry. It is a testament to Imagility's mission and the hard work of the entire Imagility team this year. We look forward to many exciting announcements in 2007 while building upon our momentum."
